Originally from Poland, Teresa received her training in Fine Arts at Nicolaus Copernicus University, in Torun, and graphic arts at George Brown College in Toronto.

Having mastered the technique that she has developed over a period of years, Teresa creates semi-abstract works using bold, vibrant, primary colours in her own pointillism style. The "dot" technique represents separation of different coloured dots. The resulting images are of a unique pixel style and texture.

The artist states: "When I moved from my urban home to a rural country setting the focus of my artwork changed. I became increasingly aware of how my spiritual well being, cultivation of the land and my creative work could be brought together. Working with the essential elements gave me unlimited opportunities to tame and coax the underlying elemental forces of nature: Fire, Water, Earth and Air. It is an ancient idea that elements and seasons symbolize the various stages in the course of a human life. Spring is Air and youth. Summer is the Sun and the fruition of our mature years. Autumn is Earth, harvest time and old age. Winter is peace and death. Strong connection with the elemental forces that I feel, is a boundless source of creative energy for me."

Teresa now lives and paints in Eastern Ontario.
